LOCAL NEWS OF ALL SORTS

The Weather To-day.
Partly cloudy weather, followed by local showers; warm southwest shifting to colder west winds in the evening; colder, fair Wednesday.

Dismissed On a Technicality—Owing to a technicality, the cases of occupying a parking for private purposes, preferred by Officers Corne and Knapp, against Patrick Sullivan and David Connell, were dismissed by Judge Kimball yesterday afternoon. Both defendants kept grocery and provision stores on E street, between Second and Third streets southwest, and although their stores are separate and distinct institutions they were charged jointly with the alleged offense on the same information bank. When this was pointed out to Judge Kimball by counsel for the defense, he promptly dismissed the cases.

Thieves Put Away—James Ashton, alias Oliver Thornton, James Johnson and Samuel Newton, colored thieves, who stole some harness from a stable near Eighth and U streets, and then led Policeman Thompson a long chase, were tried and found guilty before Judge Kimball's court yesterday afternoon. Ashton was put away for three months, and the others for thirty days each.

Gone to Join the Chain Gang—Boston John, an idiotic looking negro, with a comically misshapen head, looked with a vacant stare at Police Court Clerk Harper as that official read the long vagrancy charge to him in Judge Kimball's court yesterday afternoon. Boston was captured on the canal at Georgetown by Officer Bradley. He said he had neither home nor friends and was begging for a "hand out" when the policeman apprehended him. The court furnished him with employment with pick and shovel in the chain gang for five days, and the prisoner promised to leave town on the first canal boat when his time expires.

Ice-making Plant Sold—Nikolaus Auth yesterday sold to the Xanth Manufacturing Company the ice-making plant at No. 627 and 629 D street southwest. The property transferred includes a fifteen-ton ice machine and a number of horses and wagons. The price named is $12,000.

Alleged "Speak-easy" Keepers Held—Mrs. Kate Connell and Howard G. Varner, a colored veteran, who were arrested Sunday by Sergeant Daley and his raiders on the charge of keeping a "speak-easy" in South Washington, as described in yesterday's Times, appeared before the bar of Judge Kimball's court yesterday. Both defendants demanded jury trials, and bonds were fixed at $1,000 in each case.

Sue Knox's Express for $20,000—Bordwell Morton, a physician, now living at the Storeham, yesterday sued the Knox Express Company for $20,000 damages for fifty-three packages of household goods lost in the fire of July 26 last.

Mahl Frightened the Court—Policeman Mahl, of the Fourth precinct, caused a ripple of excitement in Judge Kimball's court yesterday by announcing that he had summoned as a witness in a disorderly assembly case a lady in whose house typhoid fever was raging. The lady in question failed to appear, much to the relief of the judge and court officers. Mahl was cautioned to be very careful in summoning witnesses from houses in which infectious diseases are prevalent.

Free Lodging for Thirty Days—George Roemer, who had been arrested Sunday by Sixth street and Louisiana avenue, Sunday night, and provided themselves with free lodging without the proprietor's knowledge or consent. They were arrested by Policeman Hamilton and yesterday Judge Kimball provided each of them with a free iron cot in a workhouse cell for thirty days.

Their Files Did Not Avail—In Judge Miller's court yesterday William A. Clark and Charles Shreve, white, and Charles Willis and William Carter, colored, were arraigned on the charge of perjury, in swearing falsely during the trial of Clark for selling liquor to minors at the Delmonico saloon, No. 1216 Pennsylvania avenue that he had not. Attorneys Carrington, Wolfe, and Jones, for the defendants, announced that their clients did not testify that no liquor was sold to minors in Clark's place, but that they did not see any liquor before the bar of Judge Kimball's court. Judge Miller remembered the testimony in the former case, as did Clerk Harper, Prosecuting Attorney Pugh, Frank Berry, and Jeremiah O'Sullivan, and the prisoners were held in $2,000 bonds for the grand jury.

Torn by a Dynamite Cartridge—Maurice Weaver, the twelve-year-old son of Mr. Robert Weaver, is confined to his home with a badly shattered hand, the result of tampering with a dynamite cartridge which he picked up in the Naval Observatory grounds. Maurice was ignorant of the nature of the cartridge and was tapping it with a stick when the explosion occurred. His hand was lacerated in a shocking manner.

Criminal Court Arraignments—In criminal court No. 2, the following cases will come up, it reached: James Snowden, Thomas Gannon and John Nelson. The following will be arraigned: William H. Merriek, Charles Powell, W. Tyler, Thomas Armstrong, Thomas Jennings, Clarence Bell, and William Settler.

Money Passing Through the Court—Mrs. Fanny Bicketts, of San Jose, Cal., executrix of Gen. J. B. Bicketts, has $721, which was left in 1867 by Thomas O'Sullivan to his daughter, Julia O'Sullivan, and wants to pay it to her. The money has been in such a position, however, by legal steps and by deaths, that Miss O'Sullivan has had to bring suit in equity to receive it. The necessary bill was filed yesterday.

Judgment Creditor's Suit—The German-American National Bank for the benefit of William B. Thompson, receiver, yesterday filed suit against John Rhone for $300 interest and cost on a judgment creditor's bill. It is asked that Thomas Rhone, who holds a trust for $700 against Rhone's real estate, lot No. 12, in square No. 788, No. 309 A street southeast, make known his claim and the property be sold to satisfy the debt.

Important Liquor Decision—Judge Miller rendered an important decision yesterday in the case of Luke Kearney, charged with being an unlicensed wholesale liquor dealer. The accused claimed to be the agent for a Baltimore firm, but the decision was to the effect that Kearney was not an agent in the eyes of the law; that non-resident brewers cannot do business in Washington under an agent unless they are bona fide renters or owners of the premises upon which the business is carried on as it is in the breweries themselves; that they must own the stock en route, and that agents must be salaried employees, not commission workers or sellers at an advance price from the brewers.

Held on a Serious Charge—Henry Simmons, captain of the toughest Eva Bell Cain, recently sunk off Tony's wharf, was held in $1,000 bonds for the grand jury by Judge Miller yesterday afternoon on the serious charge of having enticed Ida Sutton, sixteen years of age, from her home in Alexandria, and of a kidnapping of the girl in relation to a woman under eighteen years of age.

Accidentally Shot Himself—Harry Deal, a clerk at the Maryland House, while practicing in a shooting gallery on Pennsylvania avenue yesterday, was accidentally shot in the leg. He was taken to the Emergency Hospital.

Alleged Anarchists Dismissed—The case against Paul Berner and Emil Sterlitz, the supposed bomb-throwing anarchists, arrested in front of Perard's Hotel, as described in yesterday's Times, was dismissed by Judge Kimball yesterday. The men denied that they were followers of the red flag and claimed to be honest workmen in quest of employment. Mr. Berner, however, stoutly maintained that they were anarchists of the most pronounced type.

Wills of Col. Mallory and Mayhew Plater—The will of the late Col. Garrick Mallory, dated June 21, 1894, was filed yesterday. It is thirteen lines long and gives his estate to his wife, Helen Marian Mallory, and appoints her executrix without bond. The witnesses are John W. Powell, Thomas M. Chittenden and Emil C. Plater. The seal is made apparently with an old-fashioned signet ring. It is in wax, and shows a coat of arms with the legend "Volvo et vincit." The will was filed in the late Mayhew Plater, of Georgetown, in his will, dated August 5, 1893, and died yesterday, gives his property to his wife, Alice Plater, and appoints her executrix without bond.

CONCERNS OF THE DISTRICT

Assessor Trimble and Chief Parris Present Their Annual Reports.

THE ASSESSED VALUATIONS

Chief Parris Asks for Increase of Fire Apparatus—Renews the Suggestion of More Pay—The Garbage Contract to Be Continued by the Guaranty Company.

Assessor Trimble yesterday submitted his annual report to the District Commissioners. He calls attention to the provision of law that imposes an addition of 2 per cent. as penalty to assessments upon real and personal property in cases where one-half of the same shall not be paid before the first day of December in each year, and a like penalty on the first of each succeeding month until payment of said installment and penalty, and if payment thereof be not made before the first day of the succeeding June, together with the one-half of said original tax due before said 1st day of June, a like penalty on said half of the tax, and the whole together shall constitute the delinquent tax. Mr. Trimble believes this to be oppression and hopes Congress will modify the law.

A strict enforcement of this law is impossible without a material increase of the clerical force, but the assessor prefers that the law be repealed. He feels justified in saying that a law of this character of inquisitorial and unjust features. It is wrong in principle and unjust in fact. Under the provisions of the act of March 3, 1877, personal property is assessed at the rate of $1.50 on each $100 of the assessed value, with power to distract for collection when necessary. The assessor regards the salaries of his official force to be too low. He desires an increase, especially in the salaries of those employed on expert work. One additional clerk is asked for. Speaking of the new assessment of personal property, it was claimed that the assessment of real estate was defective and widespread dissatisfaction resulted.

The real estate figures are subject to revision by the board of assistant assessors, and the taxes thereon will be collected on the 1st of May, 1895. The act postpones, without interest or penalty, the payment of the first half from November until May, but the change is temporary, being for the current fiscal year only. There is no change in the time of payment of taxes on personal property.

The assessed valuations are: Washington—Realty, $50,023,640; improvements, $70,425,321; total, $120,448,961. Georgetown—Realty, $4,329,019; improvements, $5,422,699; total, $9,751,718. County—Realty, at $1.50, $12,033,550; improvements, at $1.50, $5,097,559; total, at $1.50, $17,131,109. Total assessed value of taxable real estate, $192,555,046.

Personalty—Washington, $10,671,843; Georgetown, $2,502,117; total, $13,173,960. On gross receipts, $128,730.

Total value of all taxable property in the District, $205,729,006.

In his ninth annual report, submitted yesterday, Chief Parris, of the fire department, commends the house occupied by Engine Company No. 3, on D street, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets, as in a miserable condition—not adapted for the purpose. He recommends the erection of a suitable building as early as practicable.

The discipline of the force during the year has been excellent. He feels justified in saying that the men have been as near perfect as they can be.

The chief refers again to his request for an increase of the pay of the force to an amount equaling 25 per cent., one-half of the increase, as heretofore stated in The Times, to go to the relief fund.

He says there is a need for more apparatus. The department is seriously hampered by its lack of apparatus, and an adequate number of companies. He shows this necessity by citing the possible contingency of two or more fires occurring at the same time, and suggests that in such an emergency the present equipment would be insufficient. He urges that a reserve force be provided for.

The chief also calls attention to the necessity for Congress to make provision for the establishment of a paid fire department.

There were seven resignations, seven removals, and fifteen appointments during the year. Three men were reduced in rank.

The recommendation is renewed for an increase in the number of fire plugs, three hundred being suggested as the number of additional required.

Architect Brody, of the building inspector's office, is at work on plans for the new fire-proof stairways with which the Abbott, Seaton, and Curtis School buildings, respectively, are to be equipped. The stairways are to be of iron, slate steps, iron casing, and wrought-iron balustrade, and there will be no wooden construction within the inclosure. The wooden flooring in the halls is to be removed and a complete, perfectly safe fire escape within the building will thus be provided.

The garbage question was put in good shape yesterday by the appearance of President Warfield, of the Fidelity Guaranty Company, of Baltimore, who assured the Commissioners that his company is ready to assume the responsibility of the contract made by the National Sanitary Company, for which the Guaranty Company became surety. The interview was brief, but on account of the departure of the train which Mr. Warfield desired to take to Baltimore, but it was quite a satisfactory assurance to the Commissioners.

Orders issued yesterday: That a sewer in Twelfth street, between D and G streets, be added to the provisional schedule for 1895.

That drinking fountain in the west side of Thirteenth street, between M and N streets northwest, be abandoned.

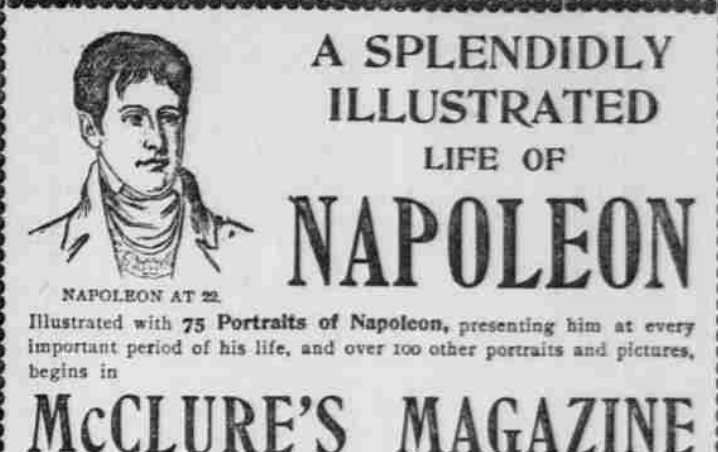

That four gasolene lamps be constructed on Eighteenth street, extended, between California and Wyoming avenues.

That the public hydrant in G street, between Second and Third streets, be removed. That three gasolene lamps be established as follows: Two on Delaware avenue, between M and N streets southwest, and one at the corner of Second and I streets southwest. The Commissioners have decided to employ the ordinary heating apparatus for the new school buildings.
